Why do I need a will? What is a health care directive?

Plan for the day when you can no longer speak for yourself. Learn about wills and health care directives from an estate attorney. Learn what steps you can take to control your future: Who cares for your children? Who are your caregivers? How do you want money and possessions handled? Who makes health care decisions for you?

Planning now saves your family stress and money in the future and gives everyone — especially you — peace of mind.
